

FACTORY IS OURS

ASSERTS MR. JEROME

NEED $10,000 FOR JEROME WATCHERS.

William Travers Jerome's campaign managers need $10,000 more. The money is wanted by noon to-day, or as soon after as possible. It is to pay for watchers to man the polls and see that Jerome gets a square count when the ballots are turned out.

Send contributions to W. W. Corwine, Treasurer, at the Gilsey House.

(Continued from First Page.)

meanings of his flat on the table and the air in front of him with a stiff forehead.

"It is this election means one thing," he said, "it will mean a revolution; it will mean the doom of our rule; it will mean the emancipation of our public servants from the collar of the boss, and my friends, I am confident that what we are fighting for now is already as good as accomplished. This meeting is a ratification of my belief. I believe we have won."

Light here the husky fellow with the tangled locks scolded again:

"We're coming, Father William," he shouted, as the speaker stopped for breath, "six hundred thousand strong."

Flashlight Stopped Him.

A puff of powder from a photographer's snapshot machine got in his lungs and Jerome had to stop for a bit. The crowd filled in the gap by sneering. Mr. Jerome only talked for about seven or eight minutes, and he carried straight to the core of his topic and stayed there.

Three weeks ago, a trembling, naked idea, a principle, crept out into the light," he went on to say, "asking for recognition at the hands of the people. In three weeks time that principle has grown into a mighty movement—a movement to restore popular rule to the people. Politics should have no business in the District Attorney's office, and I speak to you now not as a politician but as a servant of the people. Mine is no partisan cause."

"You and I, of course, know that theoretically we have got a vote at the primaries under the law, and we know theoretically that we can go to the conventions through our delegates and pick out our candidates, but you know and I know that is only a theory, that in practice we might just as well be in darkest Africa as far as any way we have of determining who the candidates will be. Some of us have been delegates to conventions, and those who have have read about it in the newspapers—some of us have tried to go to primaries and do something, and we know how agonizingly futile it all seemed as if we needed some simple thing, it seemed as if in some way we ought to get back in our hands the real power and say who should be the public officers; and so on Oct. 3 you filed a petition of citizens not in conflict with the law and the constitution, and placed it in nomination. You, the people of this city, irrespective of party, because on that petition there were people of all parties and no party, you started the ball rolling, you put the principle out to see what the people of this city would do."

Now the People's Fight.

"And just see what they have done to it. From a thing laughed at, ridiculed and scorned by the boss and the convention, laughed at by organization men and politicians, this thing has become the people's fight. You have taken it to the streets, you have taken it to the streets of enthusiasm that I have absolutely no question about what will happen to-morrow."

"To my mind the main issue is this: Whether this shall be a government of the people, by the people, for the people, or a government of bosses, by bosses, for bosses. You have taken it to the streets, you have taken it to the streets of enthusiasm that I have absolutely no question about what will happen to-morrow."

Big Roar from Outside.

As he finished and stepped back there came an outburst which lasted for only a few minutes. In the midst of it the crowd outside sent up an answering roar for Mr. Jerome had stepped out of the window into their midst. He stopped long enough to speak a few words, for there were fully 1,500 people in the street who had been waiting for his admission. Jerome thanked them for waiting so patiently to hear him, adding that he believed the fight was as good as won.

The meeting broke up as it was announced that at the Jerome rally in Cooper Union to-night, the last of the campaign for city candidate on any ticket, Austin G. Fox, Charles G. Joseph, Felix Adler and the Rev. Dr. Thomas Shearer, would speak. Mr. Jerome will also speak at length.

URGES MASON TO HELP MCLELLAN.

A statement was issued at the Republican County Committee to-day that circulars were sent out by Tammany Hall this morning to members of the Masonic Fraternity urging all Masons to support McClellan. The statement said prominent officers and members of the order had denounced the circular as an "outrage" and that every Mason in the city should be a "free Mason."

HOT FIGHT IN RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 6.—Up to the very last moment the party workers of Rhode Island will labor in their canvases to secure the election of their respective tickets to-morrow. The Democratic forces are using every effort to return to office Gov. L. F. C. Garvin, who was defeated last year by Gov. George H. Utter, the Republican nominee of this year.

The Republicans claim that the State is nominally Republican, but realize that some voters may be attracted by the prominence and activities of Mr. Garvin while he was chief executive, and on a straight party vote the Republican candidate victory and conservative any result is in doubt.

TIED OF BEING ROBBED.

George Ringler, the millionaire brewer, appeared in Harlem Court this morning against Charles Swartz, of No. 443 East Eighty-third street, arrested on a charge of wearing apparel from Mr. Ringler's residence at No. 140 Lexington avenue. Swartz is a widow's son and in the employ of a big department store.

The prisoner's attorney pleaded that his client be allowed to go because he had been married only four months and his wife is seriously ill. Mr. Ringler said:

"I have been robbed so often I have come to dread this complaint. It is my intention to press the charge against this man."

Madame Justice held Swartz in $200 bail for trial.

The city would be advised before night of the "despicable trick."

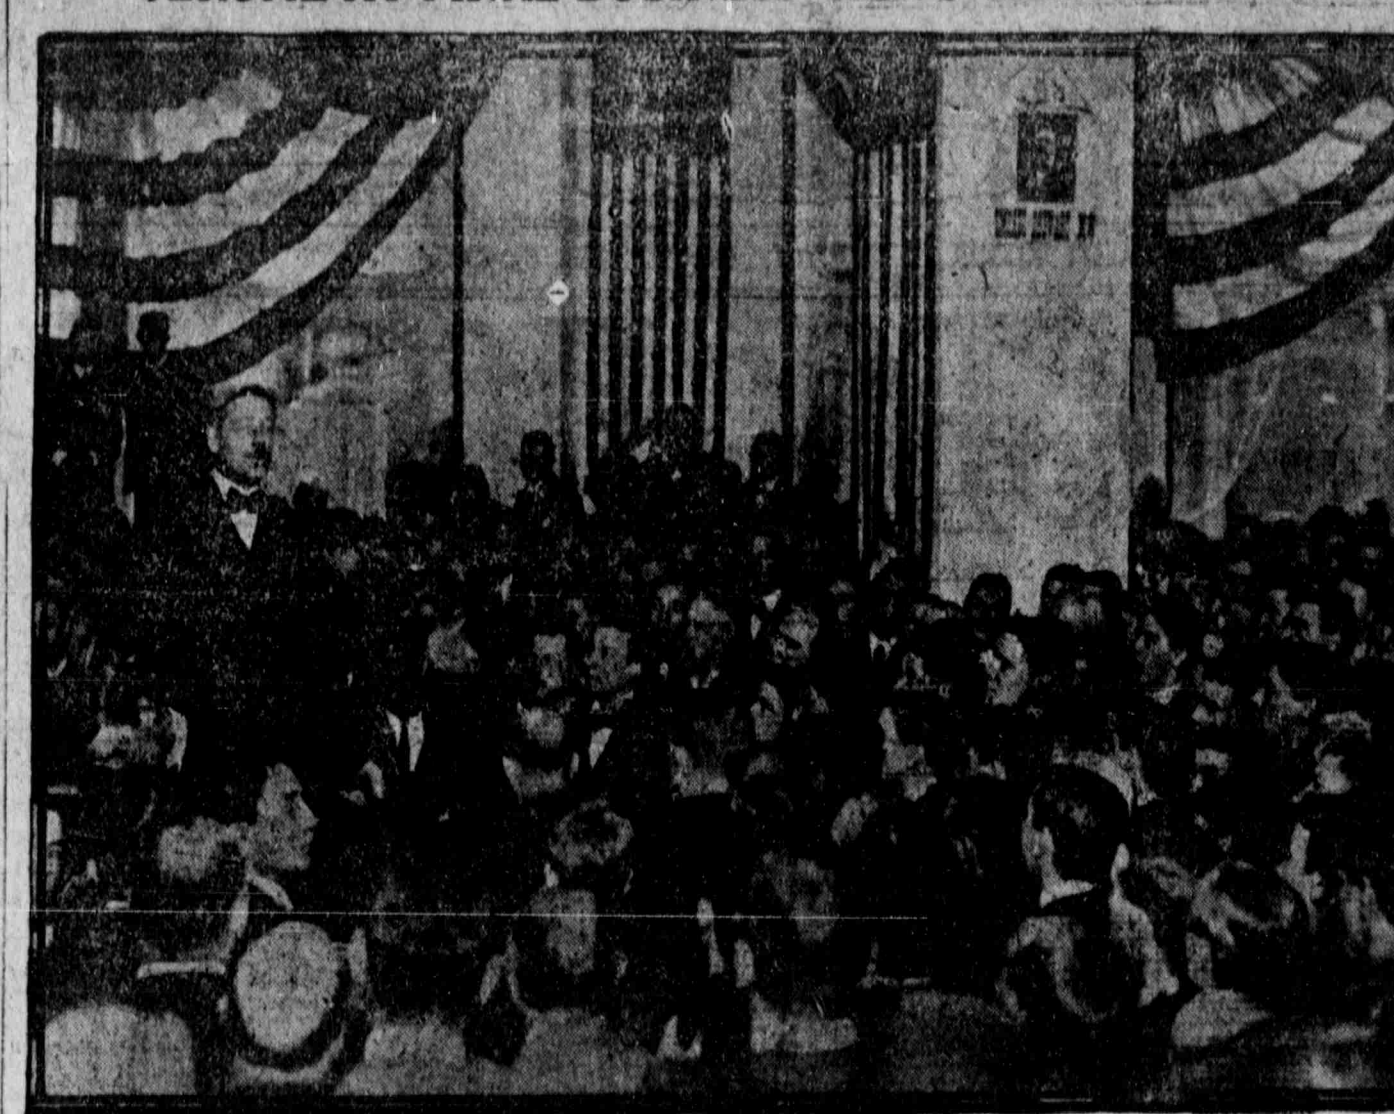

Mention was made also of a letter sent on Nov. 3 from No. 120 Fifth avenue to members of the Mystic Shrine urging all members of that order to support Noble Herman A. Metz for Comptroller. This letter was signed "Noble R. Clifford Kline."

Mr. Kline was asked about the letter to-day and said:

"I sent that letter to members of the Mystic Shrine on my own authority for Mr. Metz. He is a personal friend and a near neighbor of mine. He is a member of the order and I was surprised to learn that some of the members did not know he was candidate for Comptroller. Then I decided to send out the letter on my own book."

Thomas R. Smith, Secretary of Tammany Hall, officially denied the charges that Tammany Hall had anything to do with the circulars. He said: "There is absolutely no foundation in the statement that Tammany Hall had anything to do with it. It is an old trick, which was worked in the recent primary fight in the Fifteenth against Phelan."

JEROME AT FINAL BUSINESS MEN'S MEETING TO-DAY.

A large crowd of people gathered for a political event, likely the meeting mentioned in the headline.

FIREMAN LOST LIFE AS OTHERS MADE RESCUES.

(Continued from First Page.)

suddenly burst forth through the roof and swept out into the hallway.

Before the tenants in the four big flat-houses had any warning fire enveloped the roofs of the entire row, the flames shooting high into the air. Immediately there began a frantic exit of men, women and children by fire-escapes and stairways. The reserves of the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station were rushed to the scene and did heroic service in getting some sort of order out of the chaos of panic that prevailed.

When the first fire apparatus arrived in charge of Chief Larkin his men had to assist in rescuing the injured and cripples before they could turn their attention to the blaze.

Larkin needed only a glance to determine that the fire was an ugly one, and sent in a second alarm. Deputy Chief Dinns arrived with the second relay of apparatus. Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan came with Engine Company No. 37. He relieved the assistant foreman of that company during meal hours.

Ordered to Danger Zone.

The fire had gathered greater headway in the rear of the tenements, and Deputy Chief Dinns directed Sheehan and five men to begin an attack on the flames in that quarter. It was necessary for him to pass through a narrow alleyway leading to the rear courtyard. The alley was choked with smoke and flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan and Fireman Riley and Whalen were a little in advance of Sheehan, and these three were badly cut. Ambulances were hurriedly summoned and the injured were carried to the hospital.

The fire had now reached the rear of the tenement, and the flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan and Fireman Riley and Whalen were a little in advance of Sheehan, and these three were badly cut. Ambulances were hurriedly summoned and the injured were carried to the hospital.

The fire had now reached the rear of the tenement, and the flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan and Fireman Riley and Whalen were a little in advance of Sheehan, and these three were badly cut. Ambulances were hurriedly summoned and the injured were carried to the hospital.

The fire had now reached the rear of the tenement, and the flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

PAPA-IN-LAW NEED NOT PAY ALIMONY

(Continued from First Page.)

suddenly burst forth through the roof and swept out into the hallway.

Before the tenants in the four big flat-houses had any warning fire enveloped the roofs of the entire row, the flames shooting high into the air. Immediately there began a frantic exit of men, women and children by fire-escapes and stairways. The reserves of the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station were rushed to the scene and did heroic service in getting some sort of order out of the chaos of panic that prevailed.

When the first fire apparatus arrived in charge of Chief Larkin his men had to assist in rescuing the injured and cripples before they could turn their attention to the blaze.

Larkin needed only a glance to determine that the fire was an ugly one, and sent in a second alarm. Deputy Chief Dinns arrived with the second relay of apparatus. Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan came with Engine Company No. 37. He relieved the assistant foreman of that company during meal hours.

Ordered to Danger Zone.

The fire had gathered greater headway in the rear of the tenements, and Deputy Chief Dinns directed Sheehan and five men to begin an attack on the flames in that quarter. It was necessary for him to pass through a narrow alleyway leading to the rear courtyard. The alley was choked with smoke and flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan and Fireman Riley and Whalen were a little in advance of Sheehan, and these three were badly cut. Ambulances were hurriedly summoned and the injured were carried to the hospital.

The fire had now reached the rear of the tenement, and the flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan and Fireman Riley and Whalen were a little in advance of Sheehan, and these three were badly cut. Ambulances were hurriedly summoned and the injured were carried to the hospital.

The fire had now reached the rear of the tenement, and the flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan and Fireman Riley and Whalen were a little in advance of Sheehan, and these three were badly cut. Ambulances were hurriedly summoned and the injured were carried to the hospital.

The fire had now reached the rear of the tenement, and the flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

STAGE MANAGER KILLED BY BULLET

(Continued from First Page.)

suddenly burst forth through the roof and swept out into the hallway.

Before the tenants in the four big flat-houses had any warning fire enveloped the roofs of the entire row, the flames shooting high into the air. Immediately there began a frantic exit of men, women and children by fire-escapes and stairways. The reserves of the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station were rushed to the scene and did heroic service in getting some sort of order out of the chaos of panic that prevailed.

When the first fire apparatus arrived in charge of Chief Larkin his men had to assist in rescuing the injured and cripples before they could turn their attention to the blaze.

Larkin needed only a glance to determine that the fire was an ugly one, and sent in a second alarm. Deputy Chief Dinns arrived with the second relay of apparatus. Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan came with Engine Company No. 37. He relieved the assistant foreman of that company during meal hours.

Ordered to Danger Zone.

The fire had gathered greater headway in the rear of the tenements, and Deputy Chief Dinns directed Sheehan and five men to begin an attack on the flames in that quarter. It was necessary for him to pass through a narrow alleyway leading to the rear courtyard. The alley was choked with smoke and flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan and Fireman Riley and Whalen were a little in advance of Sheehan, and these three were badly cut. Ambulances were hurriedly summoned and the injured were carried to the hospital.

The fire had now reached the rear of the tenement, and the flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan and Fireman Riley and Whalen were a little in advance of Sheehan, and these three were badly cut. Ambulances were hurriedly summoned and the injured were carried to the hospital.

The fire had now reached the rear of the tenement, and the flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan and Fireman Riley and Whalen were a little in advance of Sheehan, and these three were badly cut. Ambulances were hurriedly summoned and the injured were carried to the hospital.

The fire had now reached the rear of the tenement, and the flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

DIPHTHERIA EPIDEMIC CLOSES FOUR SCHOOLS.

(Continued from First Page.)

suddenly burst forth through the roof and swept out into the hallway.

Before the tenants in the four big flat-houses had any warning fire enveloped the roofs of the entire row, the flames shooting high into the air. Immediately there began a frantic exit of men, women and children by fire-escapes and stairways. The reserves of the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station were rushed to the scene and did heroic service in getting some sort of order out of the chaos of panic that prevailed.

When the first fire apparatus arrived in charge of Chief Larkin his men had to assist in rescuing the injured and cripples before they could turn their attention to the blaze.

Larkin needed only a glance to determine that the fire was an ugly one, and sent in a second alarm. Deputy Chief Dinns arrived with the second relay of apparatus. Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan came with Engine Company No. 37. He relieved the assistant foreman of that company during meal hours.

Ordered to Danger Zone.

The fire had gathered greater headway in the rear of the tenements, and Deputy Chief Dinns directed Sheehan and five men to begin an attack on the flames in that quarter. It was necessary for him to pass through a narrow alleyway leading to the rear courtyard. The alley was choked with smoke and flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan and Fireman Riley and Whalen were a little in advance of Sheehan, and these three were badly cut. Ambulances were hurriedly summoned and the injured were carried to the hospital.

The fire had now reached the rear of the tenement, and the flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan and Fireman Riley and Whalen were a little in advance of Sheehan, and these three were badly cut. Ambulances were hurriedly summoned and the injured were carried to the hospital.

The fire had now reached the rear of the tenement, and the flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

Assistant Foreman Daniel F. Sheehan and Fireman Riley and Whalen were a little in advance of Sheehan, and these three were badly cut. Ambulances were hurriedly summoned and the injured were carried to the hospital.

The fire had now reached the rear of the tenement, and the flames were licking about over the heads of the little squad.

They had almost gained the courtyard when a terrific explosion was followed by a shower of bricks and blazing woodwork. Then the little band dashed toward the courtyard, the upper wall of the rear of No. 24 shot out and fell down upon them.

ELECTION WEATHER

FAIR AND COLDER

But for Whom Fair and for Whom Colder Emery Doesn't Say.

By Walter A. Sinclair.

"Fair, weather for Republicans had weather-Democratic," so runs the old election saw in manner quite emphatic, and so we asked the Weather Man what was our joy or sorrow, and Emery remarked: "I see it's fair and cold to-morrow."

He said from out the distant West a strong wind will be blowing, which didn't see the slightest indication, a vote is going. Of frost or snow he doesn't see the slightest indication, a fact that fills the G. O. P. with all kinds of elation.

The storm which is the borough has today been andy's tendency will gather up its clouds to-night and hastily be sneaking, and then election prophets in predictions will grow bolder, because the Prophet Emery says: "Tuesday, fair and cold."

While some may think such prophecies are hardly worth the telling, as bearing on the voting strength of (Vice President) McMillan, still we will know the awful truth when we are one day older, and hear in bald that Emery said: "Tuesday, fair and cold."

Although the day may be quite fair, or rain should be blowing, then will ask: "What kind of weather would one hope out for the Hearty men? And there are those prophets who are anxious now to learn what weather will bring elections for Jerome, Osborn or Sheehan? "I had better go to bed," said the City Hall, "I'm going to bed."

It's hard to say, but Emery says: "Tuesday, fair and cold."

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH.

MONTICELLO, Ky., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Arthur Massengill was burned to death, her husband and sister-in-law probably fatally injured and other members of the family seriously burned in a fire which yesterday destroyed the Massengill home. The fire was caused by the explosion of an oil stove.

Special Sale RAINCOATS and PADDOCKS

Regular $20.00 at $15.00
Regular $25.00 at $19.50
Regular $30.00 at $22.50
Regular $35.00 at $27.50

To close them out we offer a limited number only of these high grade coats, tailored in the very best style.

SOLE AGENT FOR Afterbury System Clothes

As good as the best tailor's best at half his prices.

$20 to $40

Sale rooms: 39 and 41 Cortlandt Street.

AMBERT

It is easier (and wiser) for the cripple to get along without crutches than for those who need glasses to go without them.

Our Oculists are Registered Physicians of experience. They will examine your eyes carefully and tell you their exact condition.

J. Ehrlich & Sons

48 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
225 Sixth Ave., Below 14th St.
1245 Broadway, Astor House
25 Broad St., Arcade

Jayne's Expectorant

now comes in 25c. size.

GUTHRIE FUR CO.

701 Broadway, near 10th St.

DIED.

LEOPOLD.—On Sunday, Nov. 4, FRIDA, beloved wife of Meyer Leopold.
Funeral on Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 10 A. M. sharp, from her late residence, 974 East 145th St.

BROOKLYN AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.
CHAUNCEY OLCOTT.
Next MATINEE: ELECTION DAY.
Next WEEK: THOMAS E. SHEA.

LOST, FOUND AND REWARDS.

LOST—A pair of shoes, between 12th St. and 14th St., near 10th St. Reward $5.00.
Found: (Glen) ANTHONY, 11th St.

LAUNDRY WANTS—FEMALE.

SHIRT STARCHING, experienced. Madison Laundry, 202 E. 12th St.

Stores Open To-morrow All Day

After voting you'll have plenty of time to pick out a stylish, well-fitting suit or overcoat.

You can't go wrong on any one of these:

52-inch Tourist Mixture Coats.
52-inch Oxford and Black All-Weather Coats.
46-inch Oxford and Black Melton Box Coats.

All carefully tailored to insure fit, style and long wear; all lined with finished Venetian. Every Overcoat has all the new 1934 knicks—heavy lapels, deep buttoned vents, etc. Sold elsewhere at $15. Special... $10

Men's Journeymen Built Paddocks, Extra at $16

Here are strictly all-wool, high-grade Melton Vicunas, Fancy Tweeds and Cassimeres, in black, gray, Oxford and exclusive fancy mixtures, cut with broad shoulders, broad chest, correctly fitted waist and swagger draped skirts. Sizes from 34 to 42.

2,800 Highest Grade Overcoats Under Price.

$20.00 and $22.50 Overcoats..... $14.80
$25 and $27.50 Overcoats..... 17.50
$30 and $32.50 Overcoats..... 19.50
$35 Overcoats..... 22.50
$37.50 and $40.00 Coats..... 27.50
$42.50 and $45 Overcoats..... 32.50

Men's Custom Tailored Suits.

Handsome, desirable Worsted Suits, strictly all-wool Cassimeres Suits, Venetian-lined Black Thibet Suits, sizes for men of all builds, all new Fall models, with heavy lapels, vents and long coats, single and double breasted. The only Suits at the price that are tailored so that they will hold the shape, fit and style until worn out. $10

Get the Habit. Go to Brill Brothers

14th Street, near Broadway.
279 Broadway, near Chambers.
47 Cortlandt St., near Greenwich.
125th St., corner Third Ave.

DIAMONDS

Buy direct from Importers—Save Middleman's profit.

ONE PRICE CASH & CREDIT

Make your Christmas selections now—pay in 1934 at your convenience. We trust your employers' reference required. Call or Write for Catalogue No. 44.

L.W. SWEET & CO.

37-39 Maiden Lane, Manhattan.
467 Fulton Street, Brooklyn.
178 Newark Ave., Jersey City.
Out-of-Town Patronage Solicited.

Liquozone Free.

If you need Liquozone, and have never tried it, please send us your name and state disease with which you are suffering. We will then mail you an order on a local druggist for a full-size bottle, and will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to let the product itself show you what it can do. In justice to yourself, please accept it to-day, for it places you under no obligations whatever.

The Liquozone Company,

458-464 Wabash Av., Chicago.

FURS

The only manufacturer selling furs at a price which will save you 25 to 50 per cent! Special facilities for restyling, cleaning, repairing and remodeling old fur garments to the new and stylish.

GUTHRIE FUR CO.

701 Broadway, near 10th St.

DIED.

LEOPOLD.—On Sunday, Nov. 4, FRIDA, beloved wife of Meyer Leopold.
Funeral on Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 10 A. M. sharp, from her late residence, 974 East 145th St.

BROOKLYN AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.
CHAUNCEY OLCOTT.
Next MATINEE: ELECTION DAY.
Next WEEK: THOMAS E. SHEA.

LOST, FOUND AND REWARDS.

LOST—A pair of shoes, between 12th St. and 14th St., near 10th St. Reward $5.00.
Found: (Glen) ANTHONY, 11th St.

LAUNDRY WANTS—FEMALE.

SHIRT STARCHING, experienced. Madison Laundry, 202 E. 12th St.

CANDU

The only way to tell the difference between Loft candy and the 89 cent kind, is to count your change. Loft is content with a PENNY A POUND PROFIT.

SPECIALS FOR MONDAY.

MOLASSES..... POUND 10c | ASSORTED FRUIT AND NUT CHOCOLATES..... POUND 15c

SPECIALS FOR TUESDAY.

PINEAPPLE..... POUND 10c | ASSORTED FRUIT AND NUT CHOCOLATES..... POUND 15c

Loft 3 stores

54 BARCLAY ST., Cor. West B'way
29 CORTLANDT ST., Cor. Church St.
PARK ROW, NASSAU, At City Hall Park

NO SLEEP FOR MOTHER

Baby Covered With Sores and Scabs, Could Not Tell What She Looked Like.

MARVELOUS CURE BY CUTICURA

"At four months old my baby's face and body were so covered with sores and large scales you could not tell what she looked like. No child ever had a worse case. Her face was being eaten away, and even her finger nails fell off. It itched so she could not sleep, and for many weary nights we could get no rest. At last we got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The sores began to heal at once, and she could sleep at night, and in one month she had not one sore on her face or body."